THEATRICAL.

The attractions at the People's for next week will be "A Green Goods Man" which will commence Sunday night and continue three days. On Thursday night "Uncle Tom's Cabin" commences a three night's engagement. Usual matinees.

At the Valentine.

The formal opening will occur on the 21st inst., when Hoyt's "A Milk White Flag" will be unfurled for a second time before a Toledo audience. This attraction will remain for three nights and will be followed on the 24th by "In Gay New York," the annual review from the Casino theatre in New York. Among subsequent attractions are Lillian Russell, "Excelsior, Jr.," Richard Mansfield, "The Gelsha," a play that made a pronounced hit in London; Joe Jefferson, Olga Nethersole and probably Modjeska. But those are but a few of the good things prepared for patrons of the Valentine.

KELLOGG'S AGED LINSEED OIL

The successful employment of mixed paints for residences, buildings, etc., is at last made possible by the use of an honestly made article. The Kellogg Paint Company, of Emfalo, N. Y., have built a world wide reputation on their AGED LINSEED OIL PAINTS. They are honestly made of the purest pigmonts and are mixed in Calcutta or India Fiax Seed Oil, aged and settled, which imparts a beautiful varnish-like gloss which is permanent and lasting. Thousands of hotels, residences and public buildings throughout the United States have been painted with these mixed paints with the best of satisfaction to their owners. Their enormous works at Buffalo are kept running night and day to supply the demand their excellent products merit. Having distributing points conveniently located throughout the country, the agencies are supplied on short notice, and parties who are interested in the subject of house painting, would do well to consider the matter and not buy paints of uncertain quality, and often interior grades. If your local dealer does not handle Kellogg's BEST MIXED PAINTS, insist on his getting them for you or send direct to their distributing agents, where convenient cards with the shades displayed in great varieties are kept in quantities, together with complete information and full directions for the selection of proper shades and combinations. All orders and inquiries receive the most prompt and careful attention.
